Product Description

The ABUS 160 Series Combination Open Shackle Padlock offers a convenient, keyless security solution for a wide range of everyday applications. Ideal for securing luggage, toolboxes, sports equipment, and lockers, this padlock features a tough die-cast body with a highly polished chrome finish that provides enhanced corrosion resistance.

Designed for flexibility, this padlock is available in multiple sizes and configurations. Depending on your security requirements, you can choose between a 3-digit or 4-digit resettable combination mechanism, allowing you to easily set and reset your own personal PIN. The hardened steel shackle is engineered to resist hacksaw attacks, providing reliable physical protection.

Please choose your preferred body width, combination type, shackle diameter, and clearances from the options below to find the perfect fit for your security needs.

Brand Profile

Abus

ABUS (short for August Bremicker Söhne) is a German, family-owned security company best known for making locks and "preventative" security products—the stuff designed to stop problems before they happen. The company was founded in 1924, when August Bremicker and his sons started making padlocks in a cellar forge in Volmarstein (North Rhine-Westphalia). One of the earliest products was a padlock they called "Iron Rock," and the business expanded from there into a broad security portfolio.

Today, ABUS's headquarters are in Wetter (Ruhr), Germany, and the company manufactures across multiple German and international sites (with major German production called out in places like Rehe).

ABUS operates as a group with well-known consumer lines spanning padlocks and door/window security, alarm systems and video surveillance, and also bike security—notably bike locks and bike helmets (a big reason you'll see the brand everywhere from hardware stores to cycling shops).

Brand-wise, ABUS leans hard into the "German engineering, don't mess about" identity: practical, durability-obsessed, and aimed at homes, businesses, and people trying to stop their stuff being yeeted into the void by opportunistic goblins.
