Product Description

The ABUS 74 Series safety padlocks are specifically engineered for Lock Out Tag Out (LOTO) applications, helping to protect workforce personnel and secure hazardous areas. Designed to meet OSHA lockout regulations, this lightweight and non-sparking padlock is ideal for demanding industrial environments.

It features a solid aluminium core encased in a non-conductive, high-visibility cover, providing insulation against electric shocks. For safety and compliance, the padlock is key-retaining, meaning the key cannot be removed while the lock is open, ensuring it is never left unlocked by accident. Additionally, it uses an FDA-approved lubricant, making it suitable for use in food preparation and processing areas.

This padlock is available in 10 vibrant colours to assist with easy identification and team organisation. Please choose your preferred finish, weight, and manufacturer reference from the options below.

Brand Profile

Abus

ABUS (short for August Bremicker Söhne) is a German, family-owned security company best known for making locks and “preventative” security products—the stuff designed to stop problems before they happen. The company was founded in 1924, when August Bremicker and his sons started making padlocks in a cellar forge in Volmarstein (North Rhine-Westphalia). One of the earliest products was a padlock they called “Iron Rock,” and the business expanded from there into a broad security portfolio.

Today, ABUS’s headquarters are in Wetter (Ruhr), Germany, and the company manufactures across multiple German and international sites (with major German production called out in places like Rehe).

ABUS operates as a group with well-known consumer lines spanning padlocks and door/window security, alarm systems and video surveillance, and also bike security—notably bike locks and bike helmets (a big reason you’ll see the brand everywhere from hardware stores to cycling shops).

Brand-wise, ABUS leans hard into the “German engineering, don’t mess about” identity: practical, durability-obsessed, and aimed at homes, businesses, and people trying to stop their stuff being yeeted into the void by opportunistic goblins.
