Product Description

The ABUS 82 Series Brass Sliding Shackle Shutter Padlock is a robust, monoblock-style padlock designed specifically for securing hard-to-reach areas such as roller shutters, vending machines, gates, and sliding grilles. Its solid brass body and low-profile design sit flush against surfaces, significantly reducing the exposed area and protecting against common physical attacks.

Featuring a through-hardened steel alloy shackle with Nano Plated protection, this padlock offers exceptional resistance to corrosion and cutting. The shackle is designed to rotate when attacked, frustrating attempts to saw through it. Additionally, a hardened steel pin on the narrow side of the lock body provides extra protection against sawing. Inside, a precision pin tumbler cylinder with anti-pick mushroom pins ensures reliable security against picking.

This padlock is highly versatile and available in a range of sizes and configurations. Body widths range from 63mm to 90mm, with shackle diameters of 10mm or 12mm, and varying clearances to suit your specific application. It can be supplied as Keyed to Differ (each lock has its own unique keys) or Keyed Alike (multiple locks operate using the same key) for convenient multi-site security. Please choose your preferred size, keying option, and packaging type from the options below.

Brand Profile

Abus

ABUS (short for August Bremicker Söhne) is a German, family-owned security company best known for making locks and “preventative” security products—the stuff designed to stop problems before they happen. The company was founded in 1924, when August Bremicker and his sons started making padlocks in a cellar forge in Volmarstein (North Rhine-Westphalia). One of the earliest products was a padlock they called “Iron Rock,” and the business expanded from there into a broad security portfolio.

Today, ABUS’s headquarters are in Wetter (Ruhr), Germany, and the company manufactures across multiple German and international sites (with major German production called out in places like Rehe).

ABUS operates as a group with well-known consumer lines spanning padlocks and door/window security, alarm systems and video surveillance, and also bike security—notably bike locks and bike helmets (a big reason you’ll see the brand everywhere from hardware stores to cycling shops).

Brand-wise, ABUS leans hard into the “German engineering, don’t mess about” identity: practical, durability-obsessed, and aimed at homes, businesses, and people trying to stop their stuff being yeeted into the void by opportunistic goblins.
