Product Description

The Adams Rite 261-900 Rim Armature Housing is a high-quality, slimline housing designed specifically for use with the Armlock 261 series magnets. This housing allows the armature plate to be surface-mounted directly onto the door, eliminating the need to drill a hole completely through the door structure. This makes it an ideal solution for applications where door integrity must be maintained, such as on fire doors.

Alternatively, the 261-900 can be used for flush mounting the armature plate into a timber door core, providing a neat and secure installation. It is finished in Satin Anodised Aluminium (SAA) to match modern architectural hardware, ensuring a clean and professional appearance. With its compact dimensions and non-handed design, this armature housing offers a versatile and straightforward installation for access control systems.

Brand Profile

Adams Rite

Adams Rite is a long-running American door-hardware brand best known as “the Aluminum Hardware Authority”—a specialist in locking and access hardware for narrow-stile aluminum doors (think storefronts, commercial entrances, glass-and-aluminum door systems).

The company’s core range covers deadlocks and deadlatches, electric strikes, exit devices/panic hardware, trim, and related cylinders/accessories—basically the mechanical and electromechanical guts that let commercial aluminum doors stay secure while still being code-compliant and usable.

Adams Rite is part of ASSA ABLOY, following ASSA ABLOY’s acquisition (announced and completed in 2006). In ASSA ABLOY’s portfolio, Adams Rite is positioned as a strong, complementary brand in aluminum door applications.
