Product Description

The Adams Rite 4710 Mortice Deadlatch Case is a heavy-duty, narrow-stile latch designed specifically for aluminium and metal doors. It features an automatic deadlocking mechanism, which secures the latch bolt as soon as the door is closed, preventing unauthorised entry via "loiding" or case-knife manipulation.

This deadlatch case is operated externally by a standard screw-in cylinder (sold separately) and is compatible with internal paddle handles, lever sets, or thumbturns. Please note that this unit is supplied as a lock case only; compatible faceplates and strike plates must be ordered separately to suit your specific door profile and installation requirements.

This versatile deadlatch is available in a selection of backset sizes, case depths, weights, and manufacturer references to suit different door profiles. Please choose your required specifications from the options below.

The company’s core range covers deadlocks and deadlatches, electric strikes, exit devices/panic hardware, trim, and related cylinders/accessories—basically the mechanical and electromechanical guts that let commercial aluminum doors stay secure while still being code-compliant and usable.

Adams Rite is part of ASSA ABLOY, following ASSA ABLOY’s acquisition (announced and completed in 2006). In ASSA ABLOY’s portfolio, Adams Rite is positioned as a strong, complementary brand in aluminum door applications.
