Product Description

The Asec 3 Point Door Stop offers a sleek, modern aesthetic combined with robust functionality, making it an ideal choice for both residential and commercial properties. Crafted with a high-quality Satin Stainless Steel finish, this door stop is designed to blend seamlessly with contemporary architectural ironmongery while providing reliable protection for your walls, doors, and floors.

Featuring a durable black rubber buffer, it effectively absorbs impact to prevent unsightly scuffs and damage. The standout feature of this model is its three-point fixing base, which ensures a highly secure, stable, and wobble-free installation. It is straightforward to fit and comes complete with all the necessary fixings, allowing for quick and easy mounting.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
