Product Description

The Asec 75mm Wide Polished Brass Finger Plate is a practical and stylish solution designed to protect door surfaces from finger marks, dirt, and daily wear. Ideal for high-traffic doors in both residential and commercial settings, this push plate helps maintain a clean and professional appearance.

Manufactured from high-quality brass, it features a bright polished brass finish that adds a classic touch to any door. With a thickness of 1.5mm, a length of 300mm, and a width of 75mm, it provides robust protection exactly where it is needed most.

The plate is designed for quick and straightforward screw-on installation, allowing it to be securely mounted to the door face. It is an easy-to-clean, durable accessory that keeps your doors looking pristine.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
