Product Description

The ASEC Emergency Resettable Door Release Double Pole is a highly visible, green plastic call point designed for access control systems. It provides a reliable emergency override for electronic locks, ensuring occupants can exit safely in an emergency.

This surface-mounted unit features a double-pole configuration and is fully resettable using a reset key, eliminating the need for replacement glass. For enhanced safety and visibility, it is permanently illuminated and changes from green to red upon activation. It also features both buzzer and LED indications to provide clear audible and visual feedback. A protective flip-up plastic cover is included to prevent accidental activation, making it ideal for busy commercial, public, or residential environments.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
