Specification Summary

Brand	Asec
Product type	Fire Brigade Locks

Product Description

The Asec FB2 2 Lever Mortice Deadlock is a specialised fire brigade lock designed for use by the London Fire Service and other emergency services. This mortice deadlock provides a secure yet accessible locking solution for communal doors, dry risers, gas and electricity meter cupboards, and other restricted areas, ensuring that authorised emergency personnel can gain rapid access when required.

This lock is operated by a standard FB2 mortice key (sold separately) and is keyed alike to the standard FB2 profile. Featuring a robust 2-lever mechanism, it has a 52mm backset and a 110mm case depth, making it an ideal choice for both new installations and replacing existing fire brigade locks.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
