Product Description

The Asec FPM Mortice Release Faceplate is a practical accessory designed to convert a rim-fitting electric release into a mortice-fitting release. This faceplate is specifically configured to suit nightlatches (FPM) and is compatible with Asec R12, M12, and M24 electric releases.

Featuring a polished brass finish, this faceplate provides a clean, professional appearance that coordinates well with traditional and modern door hardware alike. With dimensions of 160mm in height and 25mm in width, it offers a robust and reliable solution for upgrading your access control setup. It is supplied individually in loose packaging, making it a convenient choice for locksmiths and security installers.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
