Product Description

The Asec 'Ladies' Taktyle Braille Sign is designed to provide clear, accessible, and compliant identification for female toilet facilities. This high-quality sign is essential for public buildings, offices, and commercial premises, ensuring that your facilities are easily navigable for all visitors, including those with visual impairments.

Constructed from semi-rigid, moulded PVC, the sign features a matt finish that effectively prevents glare and reflection under bright overhead lighting. The combination of raised tactile lettering, a clear pictogram, and integrated Braille characters ensures excellent readability and compliance with accessibility guidelines.

Installation is quick and straightforward thanks to the strong self-adhesive backing. It can be securely mounted to doors, walls, or any smooth, flat surface without the need for screws, drilling, or specialist tools. Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
