Product Description

The Asec A25 Mortice Electric Release (AS9547) is a low-duty electric strike designed to be fitted within a door frame. When used in conjunction with a latch, it allows the door to be unlocked remotely as part of an access control or intercom system.

Operating on a 12V DC input, this electric release features a fail-unlocked (fail-safe) configuration, meaning it will unlock in the event of a power failure to ensure safe egress. It is continuously rated and boasts a holding force of 295kg (650lbs). A key benefit of this model is its conveniently adjustable jaw (ranging from 13mm to 17mm), making it an ideal retrofit solution for doors with additional play. It comes finished in grey and is backed by a 1-year manufacturer's guarantee.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
