Product Description

The Asec 'No Free Newspapers or Junk Mail' metal strip sign is a stylish and practical solution to help prevent unwanted deliveries. Featuring a contemporary chrome-plated finish with a mirror-like surface, this mini sign is ideal for residential doors, offices, and commercial properties.

Its compact 200mm x 50mm dimensions make it perfect for areas where space is limited, ensuring a neat and professional appearance without looking unsightly. The sign comes with a self-adhesive backing, allowing for quick and easy installation on clean, flat surfaces without the need for screws or drilling.

Whether you are looking to keep your letterbox clear of junk mail or want to maintain a tidy entryway, this durable and modern sign offers a clear message with a premium aesthetic.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
