Product Description

The Asec 'Push Button to Open' sign is a clear and professional signage solution designed to guide users on how to operate doors equipped with push-button release mechanisms. Commonly used alongside access control systems, electronic door releases, and automatic doors, this sign helps ensure smooth foot traffic and improved accessibility across your premises.

Featuring a high-contrast design with bold black text on a clean white background, the sign offers excellent visibility even from a distance. Its compact, square 150mm x 150mm format makes it easy to mount directly above or adjacent to exit buttons, making it an ideal choice for offices, schools, healthcare facilities, and commercial buildings.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
