Product Description

The Asec Resettable Illuminated Triple Pole Call Point is a highly visible, surface-mounted emergency door release solution designed for access control systems. Featuring a durable green casing with a protective cover, this unit is ideal for commercial, industrial, and public buildings where secure yet accessible emergency egress is required.

This call point is fully resettable, eliminating the hassle and cost of replacing broken glass after activation. It operates on a 12/24V DC input and features an adjustable internal sounder alongside a coloured LED status indicator, providing clear audible and visual confirmation when triggered. With triple-pole change-over contacts, it offers versatile integration options for various security, door release, and safety systems.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand’s identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
