Product type	Ball Bearing

Product Description

The Asec Vital Ball Bearing Butt Hinges are designed to provide exceptionally smooth operation and long-lasting durability for heavy-duty doors. Manufactured from high-quality satin stainless steel, these 4-inch (100mm) hinges feature integrated ball bearings that ensure excellent load-bearing capabilities, making them ideal for both domestic and commercial applications.

Each pack is supplied as a 1.5 pair (containing 3 hinges in total), which is the recommended configuration to help prevent door warping and distribute weight more evenly. The hinges are designed with countersunk screw holes to ensure a neat, flush finish once installed. Fully tested and certified, they conform to BS EN 1935:2002 Grade 13 standards, ensuring reliable performance under demanding conditions.
