Product Description

The Borg 2000 series 28mm 'Ali' latch is specifically designed for doors with a narrow stile, such as aluminium shopfront doors. It is an ideal replacement or retrofit latch for Borg BL2000 and BL4400 series mechanical digital locks.

This latch is suitable for internal and sheltered external applications on a wide range of door materials, including wooden, composite, aluminium, and steel doors. Although the latch is fully reversible on-site for convenience, it is available pre-handed in either left-handed or right-handed configurations to simplify installation.

Additionally, you can purchase the latch on its own or select the optional fixing kit. The fixing kit includes aluminium fixing tabs, an aluminium strike plate, spindles, and screws. Please select your required option (left-handed latch, right-handed latch, or fixing kit only) from the options below.
