Product Description

The Eclipse Stainless Steel Ball Bearing Hinges are designed with durability, smooth operation, and a modern aesthetic in mind. These high-quality hinges incorporate ball bearings to reduce friction, ensuring a quiet and reliable pivot action that is ideal for both residential and commercial doors.

Sold in pairs, these hinges come complete with matching fixing screws for a straightforward installation. They feature countersunk screw holes to ensure a neat, flush finish when fitted. Depending on the model selected, these hinges conform to BS EN 1935:2002 performance standards and are fire-tested to BS EN 1634 for up to 1 hour of fire resistance.

These hinges are available in multiple options with variations in width, weight, standards, manufacturer references, and barcodes. Please select your preferred specifications from the options below to ensure the correct fit for your project.
