Product Description

The Frank Allart 1189 is a premium plate-mounted lever furniture set, meticulously crafted to suit the classic Chubb 3K70 (now Union 3K70) detainer mortice sashlock. Known for exceptional British craftsmanship, Frank Allart hardware combines traditional aesthetics with reliable, heavy-duty performance.

This elegant lever furniture features a high-quality Polished Brass finish, making it an ideal choice for traditional and period properties. The backplate measures 203mm in length by 38mm in width, providing a clean, substantial profile on the door. It comes complete with a standard 8mm spindle and is designed to ensure smooth, effortless operation of the sashlock's latch mechanism.

Whether you are replacing worn-out hardware or completing a new installation, the Frank Allart 1189 offers the perfect blend of security, functionality, and timeless style.

Brand Profile

Frank Allart

Frank Allart (Frank Allart & Company Ltd) is a heritage British manufacturer of fine architectural hardware—the posh end of door, window and cabinet furniture where the finish quality and the "feel" in-hand actually matter. The business began in 1914, when George Allart started the company from a small workshop in Birmingham, and it has grown into a globally recognised name for traditionally crafted and design-led ironmongery.

Frank Allart is strongly associated with British-made brassware and decorative hardware, offering extensive ranges of door knobs and levers, pull handles, cabinet knobs and pulls, flush pulls, bolts, knockers, stops, and related fittings across a wide spread of styles and finishes.

On the corporate/history side, the company notes that after 62 years in Allart family ownership it became part of the Armac Brassfounders Group, with investment following to support the business and workforce.
