Product Description

The Frank Allart 5640 Lever Action Flush Bolt is a premium architectural hardware solution designed for edge or face fitting into the first closing leaf of a double door set. Boasting a classic polished brass finish, this 25mm wide bolt seamlessly combines traditional aesthetic appeal with reliable functionality.

Engineered with a high-quality internal coil spring, the lever mechanism provides a smooth, positive action when engaging or disengaging the bolt. It features an 11mm diameter shoot with a 16mm length of throw, ensuring a secure hold for your double doors.

This flush bolt is available in multiple lengths, including 15.2cm and 20.3cm, with weights ranging from 210g to 263g. Please select your required length option from the options below to perfectly match your installation needs.

Brand Profile

Frank Allart

Frank Allart (Frank Allart & Company Ltd) is a heritage British manufacturer of fine architectural hardware—the posh end of door, window and cabinet furniture where the finish quality and the "feel" in-hand actually matter. The business began in 1914, when George Allart started the company from a small workshop in Birmingham, and it has grown into a globally recognised name for traditionally crafted and design-led ironmongery.

Frank Allart is strongly associated with British-made brassware and decorative hardware, offering extensive ranges of door knobs and levers, pull handles, cabinet knobs and pulls, flush pulls, bolts, knockers, stops, and related fittings across a wide spread of styles and finishes.

On the corporate/history side, the company notes that after 62 years in Allart family ownership it became part of the Armac Brassfounders Group, with investment following to support the business and workforce.
