Product Description

The Morgan ACS150 (also known as the ACL150) is a robust hasp and staple designed specifically to work in combination with the Morgan ACL100 padlock. Finished in a highly visible red powder coating, it is a key component of the Accessible Club Lock (ACL) scheme.

This hasp and staple is commonly used to secure gates, doors, and entry points to facilities reserved for less able customers, ensuring accessible and reliable security. Measuring 15cm (150mm) in length, the unit features a fully reversible design, making it suitable for both left- and right-handed installations. It is supplied complete with all necessary fixing screws, allowing for a quick and straightforward setup.
