Product Description

The PJB 302 Garage Defender is a highly visible, robust security solution designed to protect up-and-over garage doors from unauthorised access. Finished in a striking red, it acts as an immediate visual deterrent to potential intruders before they even approach your property.

Engineered specifically for solid concrete floor areas, this heavy-duty unit consists of a solid steel ground plate and a T-bar defender. The ground plate is permanently secured to the concrete using the supplied high-security rawlbolt-type fixings. Once the defender is slotted over the base pillar, it physically blocks the outward swing of the garage door, preventing it from being opened.

For maximum security, the design ensures that your padlock is completely concealed and protected inside the steel enclosure when fitted. This shielding prevents thieves from accessing the padlock with cutting, sawing, or prying tools, while also offering excellent weather protection.

Please note: The padlock is not included with this unit and must be purchased separately.
