Product Description

The SQUIRE STH100 Stronghold High Security Padbar is one of the toughest padbars ever made, engineered specifically for extra high security commercial and industrial applications. It is ideal for securing high-risk areas such as warehouses, storage facilities, perimeter gates, and heavy-duty doors.

Constructed from a special hardened cast material, the STH100 is exceptionally resistant to cutting, drilling, and other forms of brutal attack. It features an extra-long, hardened steel staple that rotates freely, preventing intruders from gaining purchase with saws or cutting tools.

This heavy-duty padbar is designed to be used exclusively with the Squire SS100CS padlock (sold separately). When deployed together, this formidable combination achieves the prestigious LPCB (Loss Prevention Certification Board) SR4 standard, offering certified protection against criminal intrusion and high-level physical attacks.

For ease of installation, the padbar is supplied complete with a dedicated fitting template. It is finished in a protective blue coating and comes backed by a 10-year manufacturer's guarantee, ensuring long-lasting security and peace of mind.

Brand Profile

Squire

Squire (formally Henry Squire & Sons Ltd) is one of the UK's oldest lockmakers — a heritage brand best known for serious padlocks and chain security, especially in the motorcycle, commercial, and site-security world. Squire's own history traces the business back to 1780, when William Squire began making locks in Willenhall (the Black Country's lockmaking capital). They even supplied locks to the British Army during the Napoleonic Wars, which is a wildly specific flex that basically translates to: "we've been thinking about forced entry since muskets were a performance upgrade."

Operationally, the trading entity behind the brand is Henry Squire & Sons Limited.

What Squire is known for

Squire's modern identity is anchored in high-security padlocks and matching hardened chains / accessories, with the flagship line being Stronghold®. Their own "About" page calls out products like the Stronghold SS100cs as an ultra-high-security production padlock (Squire describe it as the world's strongest production padlock — not subtle, but neither is a 1kg lump of hardened steel).

A good example of how the brand positions itself in real-world standards:

- The Squire SS65CS Stronghold is independently listed by Sold Secure with CEN Grade 6 and a Powered Cycle Gold rating, alongside features like hardened components and weather resistance.
