Product Description

The UNION 2295 Strike Plate is a genuine replacement strike plate (sometimes referred to as a keep or forend plate) designed specifically to suit the UNION 2295 2-lever mortice sashlock.

This high-quality accessory is fully reversible, making it suitable for installation on both left and right-handed timber doors. It features a durable chrome-plated finish, providing a clean, modern aesthetic that matches existing door hardware while offering reliable resistance to daily wear and tear.

Whether you are replacing a lost, damaged, or worn strike plate, this genuine UNION component ensures your mortice sashlock latches and deadbolts securely into the door frame.

Brand Profile

Union

UNION is one of the big heritage names in British-designed locks and door hardware, with roots going back to 1840 in Willenhall (aka the Black Country's lockmaking mothership). What started as a family business grew into a widely specified brand for everything that "goes on a door," and UNION still leans hard into that made-for-the-trade, won't-let-you-down identity.

Today, UNION sits inside ASSA ABLOY Opening Solutions UK & Ireland, and the brand acts like a hub for a wider family of door-hardware ranges. In recent years, brands like Exidor (panic/exit hardware), plus Dale Hardware and Excel Architectural Hardware, were brought into the broader "UNION family" after ASSA ABLOY acquisitions. It's basically the Avengers, but instead of saving the universe they just make sure fire exits actually work at 3am.

What UNION is known for:

- A huge spread of locks and cylinders (mortice locks, euro cylinders, padlocks, etc.)
- The broader architectural hardware ecosystem: door controls, exit hardware, hinges, handles, accessories, and spec/support tooling aimed at installers and ironmongers
- A strong UK trade presence and long distributor relationships (Aldridge even called out a 60-year partnership publicly).
