Product Description

The Yale 334 2 Lever Rim Sashlock is a cost-effective, surface-mounted locking solution designed for internal doors, sheds, and wooden gates where basic security is required. This traditional rim lock is easy to install directly onto the surface of the door, making it an ideal choice for applications where cutting a deep mortice is not preferred.

The lock is designed for use with rim knob furniture. The latchbolt is operated by a rim knob from either side, while the key-operated deadbolt can be locked and unlocked from both the inside and outside. It comes complete in a classic grey finish and is supplied with a matching staple keep and two keys.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that's become so default it's basically a synonym for "lock" in a lot of people's heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale's own regional "About" pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY's Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY's acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader "smart access" push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
