Product Description

The Yale PBS1 and PBS2 British Standard Nightlatches provide premium security for timber and glass panel doors. Fully approved to British Standard BS3621:2007, these locks are designed to resist common attack methods, including drilling, picking, carding, and bumping. They feature a robust 20mm anti-saw bolt and automatically deadlock as soon as the door is closed, ensuring your home remains secure.

Each nightlatch is supplied with a high-security TS007 1* 6-pin rim cylinder, which is keyed alike to the internal lockable handle for convenient operation. A handy push-button snib allows you to temporarily hold back the latch when needed.

These nightlatches are available in a choice of 40mm (PBS2) or 60mm (PBS1) backsets, with case finishes in Brasslux, Chrome Plated, or Dull Metal Grey, and cylinder finishes in Polished Brass or Chrome Plated. Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that's become so default it's basically a synonym for "lock" in a lot of people's heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale's own regional "About" pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY's Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY's acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader "smart access" push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
