Specification Summary

Brand	Yale
Product type	5 Lever BS04

Product Description

The Yale PM562 is a high-security British Standard 5-lever mortice deadlock, designed to provide maximum security for external wooden doors. It is fully insurance-approved and Kitemarked to BS3621:2007, making it an ideal choice for domestic and commercial properties seeking robust protection.

This premium deadlock features a 20mm anti-saw deadbolt and an anti-drill lock case, specifically engineered to resist common methods of forced entry. It is also Secured by Design (Police approved specification) and recommended by both police forces and insurance companies. The deadbolt is easily locked or unlocked by key from either side, offering reliable and straightforward operation.

The Yale PM562 is available in two sizes to suit your door's requirements. You can choose between a 45mm backset (with a 64mm case depth) or a 57mm backset (with a 75mm case depth). Please select your preferred size and backset option from the drop-down menu below.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that's become so default it's basically a synonym for "lock" in a lot of people's heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale's own regional "About" pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY's Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY's acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader "smart access" push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
