Product Description

The Yale Y111B Series Cast Iron Padlock offers a reliable, everyday security solution for a variety of indoor and general-purpose applications. Constructed with a robust cast iron body and finished in a sleek black coating, these open shackle padlocks combine durability with a classic aesthetic.

To provide enhanced resistance against cutting and sawing, each padlock features a hardened steel shackle. They are supplied with three keys as standard and operate on a keyed-to-differ mechanism, ensuring individual security for each lock.

This versatile series is available in multiple sizes to suit your specific security needs. Please choose from the available options below to select your preferred body width, shackle diameter, and clearance dimensions.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that's become so default it's basically a synonym for "lock" in a lot of people's heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale's own regional "About" pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY's Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY's acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader "smart access" push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
