Product Description

The Yale Y155B High Security Hardened Steel Hasp is a robust and reliable security solution designed specifically for outdoor use. Ideal for securing sheds, garages, gates, and other valuable outdoor assets, this 160mm hasp and staple offers enhanced protection against forced entry.

Constructed from heavy-duty hardened steel with a protective black coating, the hasp is built to withstand both physical attack and harsh weather conditions. It has been rigorously tested for up to 96 hours for corrosion resistance, ensuring long-lasting durability in outdoor environments. For added security, the hasp features concealed fixings when locked, preventing intruders from tampering with or unscrewing the mounting hardware.

The Y155B is supplied complete with all necessary fixings for a quick and straightforward installation. It is designed to pair perfectly with Yale padlocks, and is particularly suited for use with the Yale Y125B laminated steel, Y220B weatherproof, and Y90S hardened steel padlocks.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that's become so default it's basically a synonym for "lock" in a lot of people's heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale's own regional "About" pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY's Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY's acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader "smart access" push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
