Product Description

The Adams Rite 7101 Series Mortice Release is a medium-duty electric strike designed for aluminium, hollow metal, or timber doors. It is engineered for doors fitted with Adams Rite 4500, 4700, or 4900 deadlatches, or cylindrical locksets with a 12.7mm to 15.9mm latchbolt projection. Electrical actuation unlocks the keeper, allowing the door to be opened without operating the latch itself.

Featuring a short, radiused faceplate, this mortice release is ideal for double leaf aluminium doors, matching the nose on the inactive leaf of narrow stile doors. The compact mechanism fits easily into shallow frame sections.

This series is available in several configurations to suit your installation requirements. Please select from the options below to choose your preferred manufacturer reference, input voltage (12V AC or 12V DC), operation mode (Fail Locked or Fail Unlocked), current consumption (0.332A or 1.48A), and corresponding weight (ranging from 450g to 470g).

Brand Profile

Adams Rite

Adams Rite is a long-running American door-hardware brand best known as “the Aluminum Hardware Authority”—a specialist in locking and access hardware for narrow-stile aluminum doors (think storefronts, commercial entrances, glass-and-aluminum door systems).

The company’s core range covers deadlocks and deadlatches, electric strikes, exit devices/panic hardware, trim, and related cylinders/accessories—basically the mechanical and electromechanical guts that let commercial aluminum doors stay secure while still being code-compliant and usable.

Adams Rite is part of ASSA ABLOY, following ASSA ABLOY’s acquisition (announced and completed in 2006). In ASSA ABLOY’s portfolio, Adams Rite is positioned as a strong, complementary brand in aluminum door applications.
