Product Description

The Asec Call Point Reset Key is an essential accessory designed for resetting emergency door release and call point units. Specifically manufactured to suit Asec resettable emergency door release and call point products, including the AS11409 and AS11410 models, these keys allow you to quickly and easily reset your door exit hardware after activation or testing.

Supplied in a convenient pack of 10, this set ensures that facility managers, security personnel, and maintenance teams always have spare keys on hand across multiple locations. They are finished in a subtle black colour and are highly durable, making them a reliable addition to any access control system setup.

Brand Profile

Asec

ASEC is a trade-focused security hardware brand built around the “everyday kit” locksmiths and installers reach for, with a big emphasis on breadth, availability, and value rather than boutique-only spec pieces. The brand was established in 2003 and was created specifically to support independent retailers and security professionals with products that “would never become available through the large multiple retailers.”

Where ASEC gets especially interesting (and why it tends to become a “default stock brand”) is the scale of the range:

- ASEC positions itself as having a portfolio of 2,000+ individual products, described as one of the largest ranges under a single security brand name in the industry.
- Coverage is intentionally broad across the core trade categories: Access Control, Architectural Hardware, Key Cutting, Locking Products, UPVC, Tools & Accessories.

ASEC is exclusive to Aldridge Security (whom we distribute) in the UK trade ecosystem (Aldridge explicitly calls itself the exclusive distributor of ASEC Security Products worldwide). That exclusivity is a big part of the brand's identity: it keeps the range aimed at the trade channel rather than getting diluted into mass retail.
