Product Description

The Asec Vital Tubular Latch is a versatile and reliable mortice latch designed for internal doors. It features a reversible latch bolt, making it suitable for both left and right-handed doors without any complex adjustments. With integrated bolt-through fixing holes, this latch easily accommodates modern door handles and furniture that require bolt-through security.

To ensure a neat, professional installation, the latch is designed with countersunk screw holes, allowing the screws to sit perfectly flush with the square forend. It is supplied complete with a matching strike plate to complete the look.

This tubular latch is available in multiple lengths and finishes to seamlessly match your door hardware. Please select your preferred length, finish, and manufacturer reference from the options below.
