Product Description

The Morgan NKS200 Oval Padbolt (manufacturer reference ACL200) is a robust and reliable locking accessory designed by T Morgan & Sons. Engineered specifically for use in combination with the ACL100 padlock, this padbolt is commonly installed to secure access gates and facilities reserved for less able customers.

Featuring a vibrant red powder-coated finish, the padbolt is highly visible and easily identifiable. Its non-handed design ensures it is fully reversible, making it suitable for both left and right-handed applications. The unit is supplied boxed and complete with fixing bolts, ensuring a straightforward and secure installation.

Please note: The ACL100 padlock is sold separately.
