Product Description

The Squire 6H Hasp & Staple is a durable, medium-security locking solution designed to protect outbuildings, sheds, garages, and commercial lock-ups. Constructed from heavy-duty hardened steel, it provides reliable resistance against physical attacks and tampering.

Featuring a pinless hinge and a concealed door edge fixing design, the 6H hasp and staple ensures that all mounting screws are completely hidden when locked, preventing unauthorised removal. It is supplied with coach bolt fixings to deliver an extra layer of security during installation.

With its anti-corrosion finish, this versatile hasp and staple is built to withstand the elements, making it equally suited for both indoor and outdoor applications. Its flexible design allows for easy installation on both single and double doors.

Brand Profile

Squire

Squire (formally Henry Squire & Sons Ltd) is one of the UK’s oldest lockmakers — a heritage brand best known for serious padlocks and chain security, especially in the motorcycle, commercial, and site-security world. Squire’s own history traces the business back to 1780, when William Squire began making locks in Willenhall (the Black Country’s lockmaking capital). They even supplied locks to the British Army during the Napoleonic Wars, which is a wildly specific flex that basically translates to: “we’ve been thinking about forced entry since muskets were a performance upgrade.”

Operationally, the trading entity behind the brand is Henry Squire & Sons Limited.

What Squire is known for

Squire’s modern identity is anchored in high-security padlocks and matching hardened chains / accessories, with the flagship line being Stronghold®. Their own “About” page calls out products like the Stronghold SS100cs as an ultra-high-security production padlock (Squire describe it as the world’s strongest production padlock — not subtle, but neither is a 1kg lump of hardened steel).

A good example of how the brand positions itself in real-world standards:

- The Squire SS65CS Stronghold is independently listed by Sold Secure with CEN Grade 6 and a Powered Cycle Gold rating, alongside features like hardened components and weather resistance.
