Product Description

The Yale 1122 Screw-In Cylinder is a high-quality replacement cylinder designed specifically for use with Yale 6000 series lock cases. Featuring a reliable 5-pin security mechanism, this cylinder provides dependable key access and is equipped with 15mm of thread for a precise fit. Please note that this cylinder is designed exclusively for Yale 6000 series locks and is not compatible with Adams Rite type lock cases due to a different thread pitch.

This versatile cylinder is available in a range of options to suit your specific installation and aesthetic preferences. You can choose between a single cylinder or a keyed-alike pair, and select from high-quality finishes including Polished Brass and Satin Chrome. Depending on your selection, cylinders are supplied with either 2 or 4 keys, with weights ranging from 220g for a single cylinder to up to 440g for a pair. Please choose your preferred finish, keying option, and pack quantity from the options below.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that’s become so default it’s basically a synonym for “lock” in a lot of people’s heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale’s own regional “About” pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY’s Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY’s acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader “smart access” push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
