Brand	Yale
Product type	Auto Deadlocking

Product Description

The Yale No. 1 and No. 2 Auto Deadlocking Nightlatches are highly secure rim locks designed for inward-opening wooden doors. These classic nightlatches feature an automatic deadlocking mechanism that engages as soon as the door is closed, providing robust protection against latch-slipping or "carding" attacks.

An integrated internal lockable handle offers enhanced security, making these locks particularly suitable for glass-panelled doors where an intruder might attempt to gain entry by breaking the glass to reach the handle. A convenient snib function allows the latch to be held back in the open position when unrestricted access is required.

These nightlatches are available in two sizes to suit different door styles: the No. 1 model features a standard 60mm backset (84mm case width), while the No. 2 model features a narrow 40mm backset (64mm case width) designed for doors with narrow stiles.

Please choose your preferred backset, case finish, cylinder finish, and packaging type from the options below.

Brand Profile

Yale

Yale is one of the most recognisable names in locks and home security — the kind of brand that’s become so default it’s basically a synonym for “lock” in a lot of people’s heads. The story starts with Linus Yale and the invention/development of the pin-tumbler concept that underpins a huge chunk of modern lock design, then scales into mass manufacturing and global distribution through the industrial era.

Today, Yale sits in an interesting split-brain reality:

- Outside the US & Canada, Yale is an ASSA ABLOY brand, and Yale’s own regional “About” pages explicitly state the brand was purchased by ASSA ABLOY in August 2000.
- In the US & Canada, the Yale and August brands were sold off as part of antitrust remedies tied to ASSA ABLOY’s Spectrum acquisition; Reuters and The Verge both describe Yale being retained by ASSA ABLOY outside North America, while the US/Canada Yale brand moved to Fortune Brands Innovations.

Product-wise, Yale spans the whole spectrum from classic mechanical cylinders and door hardware through to smart locks and connected access under the Yale Home umbrella. A key modern milestone was ASSA ABLOY’s acquisition of August Home (completed in December 2017), which fed into the broader “smart access” push around app-based entry and connected ecosystems.
